UM PHARMACY SCHOOL DOLES OUT AWARDS, SCHOLARSHIPS

MISSOULA —

The University of Montana's School of Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences recently honored 60 top pharmacy students, dealing out an array of awards from certificates and plaques to medals and scholarships.

Although students in the three-year professional program garnered most of the honors, several awards went to top students in the two-year pre-pharmacy program of basic science and general education courses required for admission into the professional program.

Award recipients from Polson are

■ Third-professional-year student Kevin Denesen, son of James Denesen, who received a plaque and a $500 Pfizer Pharmaceuticals Community Pharmacy Internship Award given in his name to the pharmacy school.

■ Third-professional-year student Kari Streitmatter, daughter of Alan and Elaine Streitmatter and the winner of a School of Pharmacy Faculty Award.

Libby award winners are

■ Second-professional-year student Renee Wilkonski-Larson, who received a $690 James Wedum Endowment Scholarship and a $500 Sidney J. Coffee Scholarship.

■ Second-professional-year student Connie Sweet, who received a $475 Deane and Laurie Mutch Bell Scholarship.

Correena Brown, a second-professional-year student from St. Ignatius, received a $690 James Wedum Endowment Scholarship; and Carla Cahoon, a second-professional-year student from Charlo, received a $500 Sidney J. Coffee Scholarship.

First-professional-year student Trevor Cummings of Troy received a $500 grant from the Montana State Pharmaceutical Association.

Also among the recipients were third-professional-year students Paul Mitchell of Kalispell and Amy Cope of Ronan, both of whom received School of Pharmacy Faculty Awards. Roger Citron, a third-professional-year student from Whitefish, received the Roche Pharmacy Communications Award.

The School of Pharmacy and Allied Health Sciences offers bachelor's degrees in pharmacy and physical therapy and a master's degree in pharmaceutical sciences.
